

Someone has just saved themselves
a whole lot of hassle.

Account Managers from Carter's Tyres don't need to spend much time in the office - they can now be out and about meeting with clients and visiting sites, all the while having access to e-mail and their latest electronic price list, without the need for computers.

Carter's Tyres have always been leading edge when it comes to providing top service - just ask any of their clients.

So when Garry called and explained what he wanted to do, we got straight into designing a solution for his team.

He wanted his account managers to be able to have access to the latest electronic price list when in front of a client, be able to submit their time sheets electronically - without the need for finding a phone line, and be able to respond to client e-mail requests immediately.

We designed a solution, and it works so well that the account managers now don't even need a conventional computer at all.

We proposed the use of Pocket PC's for the account managers - that way they could carry word and excel documents, send and receive e-mail, update their schedules and submit their time sheets, all from a device they can carry in their pocket.

Going a step further, their mobile phones are built into these Pocket PC's, meaning that it all happens on a single device, and they can perform any of these functions from wherever they have cell phone coverage - world-wide.

All in all, additional time now spent with customers, latest up-to-date pricing, information whenever they need it, and the ability to respond to customer e-mail requests, leads to one thing - happy clients!

Carter's Tyres are now more efficient than ever before, saving them time and money every single day.

"Thanks to Pulse, having clients' e-mail requests delivered to me in the field, means I can turn them around in a fraction of the time it used to take"
