

The proof of the pudding
is in the eating

300 computers

a million headaches

THE SIR GEORGE SEYMOUR
NATIONAL COLLEGE OF
TOURISM & TRAVEL

Seymour College is New Zealand's leading tourism & travel training establishment. With multiple locations throughout the country, they provide high quality training and have strong relationships throughout the industry.

They lead the way, but were struggling with their outdated computer systems. Imagine it – 1000 users, 300 computers, a mix of small networks throughout the country, all setup differently, with no real collaboration of information – well at least not electronically

One phone call to Pulse I.T. Solutions, and things started to make sense.

IT Manager Bradd Trebilco writes - "We knew we had to do something, so four possible partners were approached and all came forward with their propositions.

From early on we could see that Pulse's approach was head and shoulders above the rest – their proposal had all bases covered, gave us exactly what we wanted plus more, was technically superior, and came in within budget – we could see that a lot of thought had been put into it".

The Pudding

"They say the proof of the pudding is in the eating, and we were looking forward to a smooth roll-out with a nation-wide network that was functioning immediately. And that's exactly what we got. In fact Pulse's approach worked so well that I must be the first IT Manager in history to take a week's holiday on the first day of the new network being completed."

The Eating

"We're now able to achieve much more than we originally anticipated, and having all of the benefits of live information from our campuses has allowed for greater streamlining and efficiencies, all running on top of a fast & reliable network."

Key Advantages

- Live information from all campuses
- Ease of conventions across campuses and updating course material across all sites
- Collaboration of information and increased company efficiencies
- Robust and reliable nation-wide network
- Staff and students can login anywhere in the country and have all their information immediately in front of them - or anywhere in the world for that matter
- All this leads to one thing
- Happy staff and happy students

"Pulse I.T. Solutions are a great company to work with. I would recommend them to anyone looking for a superior technology partner"
